

Arkitrek Camp Design & Build in Borneo

www.arkitrek.com/arkitrek-camp

The Arkitrek Camp is open to all students, graduates and professionals in the construction industry or anyone who has an interest in sustainable development and nature conservation.

All Camps are sourced to complement the Arkitrek philosophy of working responsibly in natural areas and building capacity for rural communities to implement sustainable design.

Participants are given a client and a design brief for a challenging site in Borneo. Thereafter the program is intense; in a short period of time the team must interpret the brief, conduct socio-environmental surveys, complete the design process and build their proposals.

The experience bridges the gap between theory and practical application, giving students new skills and confidence. Professionals will find this an inspirational break from their desk job.
